

Mazo: Redefining timeless design

Mazo, a prominent Copenhagen-based design brand, continues to set the standard for timeless elegance and innovative craftsmanship. Renowned for its continuous fusion of historical design influences and contemporary aesthetics, Mazo invites design enthusiasts to explore a curated collection that transcends fleeting trends and celebrates enduring beauty.

A LEGACY OF TIMELESS CRAFTSMANSHIP

Founded in 2019, Mazo has swiftly gained recognition for its dedication to creating pieces that resonate with both historical significance and modern functionality. The brand's mission is to deliver designs that remain relevant and cherished for generations to come. Central to this mission is their exclusive right to re-launch and manufacture the designs of the esteemed Danish architect Magnus Læssøe Stephensen, whose works are celebrated for their warm functionalism and harmonious blend of Bauhaus and Japanese craftsmanship.

“We are deeply committed to ensuring that the products we launch will be as relevant and admired fifty years from now as they are today,” says Magnus Læssøe Stephensen, CEO of Mazo and the grandson of architect Magnus Læssøe Stephensen. “Our approach is a tribute to my grandfather’s foresight and his ability to combine simplicity with Nordic materials, creating designs that have stood the test of time.”

CRAFTING DESIGN WITH PRECISION

At Mazo, each creation is a testament to the meticulous craft of design and a profound understanding of materiality. The brand's design philosophy embraces the union of contrasting elements – where straight lines meet soft curves, and lightness coexists with weight. This dedication to balance and detail ensures that every piece within the Mazo collection is not only visually appealing but also durable and functional.

“In our commitment to outstanding design, we approach each project with a careful eye, always exploring new paths for innovation and originality,” adds Magnus Sangild, Head of Design and Partner in Mazo. “We enjoy experimenting with materials to bring out their best in every product. We don’t cut corners during the design process, recognizing and embracing the time-intensive nature required to create products of exceptional quality.”

BRIDGING HERITAGE AND INNOVATION

Mazo's collection is a unique convergence of past and present. Collaborating with designers from the 1930s to today, the brand breathes new life into forgotten gems and reintroduces design classics that resonate with contemporary sensibilities. This approach ensures that each piece is a well-blend of historical reference and modern relevance, appealing to a global audience of design aficionados.

"Our journey is about creating pieces that tell a compelling story", says Stephensen. "We merge the lessons of historical design with the needs of today's homes, offering a collection that feels both timeless and innovative."
